

In the Real Time Music Composition Workshop, we will write a monophonic synthesizer in Max/MSP. Playable via MIDI controller or on-screen virtual keyboard, it will also have a built-in step sequencer and audio recorder. During the second session, the instrument will be enhanced further by the addition of features such as multimode filters, randomized sequencer functions, and panning delay